Extended essay - Reflection and progress form

Student: This form is to be completed by you and your supervisor during the progress and completion of the extended essay. It records your progress through the extended essay process and includes your reflective statement addressing your extended essay experience. You must undertake three formal reflection sessions with your supervisor: The first formal reflection session should focus on your initial ideas and how you plan to undertake your research; the interim reflection session takes place once a significant amount of your research has been completed, and the final session will be in the form of a viva voce, once you have completed and handed in your extended essay. This document acts as a record in supporting the authenticity of your work. Following the viva voce, you write a reflective statement of no more than 500 words., which must be included on the RPF.

The completion of this form is a mandatory requirement of the extended essay. It must be submitted together with the completed essay. The reflective statement will then be assessed under Criterion E. Students and supervisors should be aware that a mark of 0 will be awarded by the examiner for criterion E if the RPF is blank or the reflective statement is written in a language other than that of the accompanying essay.

Supervisor: You must have three reflection sessions with each student, one early in the process, an interim meeting and then the final viva voce. Other check-in sessions are permitted but do not need to be recorded on this sheet. After each reflection session you must record the month that the reflection session took place, the student's year of DP study at that time and initial the form.

By submitting this student work for assessment, you are taking responsibility for its authenticity. No piece of student work should be uploaded/submitted to the e-Coursework system if its authenticity is in doubt.

Reflective statement

(No more than 500 words, written in the same language as the accompanying extended essay)

Initially, I was thinking of examining how Starbucks increases its income with sustainability. For this, my research question was "How has incorporating Corporate Social Responsibility principles into its business operations helped Starbucks to increase its revenue globally?" I've changed this question from the one I originally set. This is because I added two independent and two dependent variables to my question and realized that the word limit would not be enough for this. While writing the essay, I would mainly benefit from the units 3.3 costs and revenues and 5.1 introduction to operations management. I was planning to use secondary data only. For this, I aimed to find out how Starbucks revenues increase when they use sustainability. So, I looked at its revenue before and after embedding sustainability into the business operations.

I then realized that I didn't make enough reference to my research question in the essay. In addition, I realized that I needed to correct the requirements in the format such as using double space, using 12 punto. Also, I had to develop my explanations more. I also changed my research question to the effect of Social Corporate Responsibility on Starbucks' revenue rather than the effect of sustainability on Starbuck's revenue.

In the viva, we looked at the final version of my essay and I had a chance to explain the points that was challenging for me. More specifically these points were time management and selecting and using credible sources. With these challenges that I have faced, I learned to manage my time better and realized that secondary research is a better option for researching Starbucks globally. I could have changed my topic from investigating Starbucks in a global scale to only investigating a country in order to do primary research for deeper understanding.
