Extended essay: commentary for example essay
DP subject: (Subject-focused essay)	History
DP subjects: (Interdisciplinary essay)		Interdisciplinary framework:
Research question:	To what extent did prolonged unequal US-Cuban relations produce the conditions for revolution in Cuba between 1895-1953?
Assessment details
Criterion:	Mark awarded:	Commentary: (Incorporating wording from the assessment criteria)
A: Framework for the essay [Maximum possible mark: 6]	3	The research question is relevant to the topic and has some focus, but it is too broad. The research methods are mostly suitable to the research question and are applied with partial effectiveness. The structural conventions support some aspects of the essay.
B: Knowledge and understanding [Maximum possible mark: 6]	4	Some relevant research materials are used to establish some knowledge about the issue of the unequal relationship between the US and Cuba; USA control from Washington, political instability in Cuba, Cuban economic weakness and nationalistic mobilisation. Some relevant terminology is accurately used to demonstrate partial understanding of some aspects of the subject matter. Some relevant concepts are explained and used with partial effectiveness.
C: Analysis and line of argument [Maximum possible mark: 6]	4	While sections of the essay are descriptive there is some analysis that is partially effective and produces relevant findings. A partial line of argument is present.
D: Discussion and evaluation [Maximum possible mark: 8]	4	There is an attempt to consider the issues identified as contributory to the unequal relationship between the USA and Cuba. The discussion is partially balanced with some attempts at evaluation.
E: Reflection [Maximum possible mark: 4]	3	The reflection on the extended essay learning experience is partially evaluative and includes some examples. The reflection shows some evidence of the student's growth and transfer of learning.
Total marks awarded	18/30	The candidate has a given some consideration to the issue of extent to which the unequal relations between the USA and Cuba produced revolutionary conditions. The four areas that are covered are at times descriptive, with some attempts at analysis and evaluation.	